COATED WITH ICE

TRAINS DELAYED AND COMMUNICATION FROM KANSAS CITY DEMORALIZED.

FLOODS WORSE

Conditions at Cincinnati Worse Today.—Much Suffering Among Residents.—Ohio Breaks Through the Levee at Shawneetown and Inundates the City.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 18.—This portion of the Southwest is still plastered with a thick coating of ice. This condition has existed for 48 hours, and today there is little prospect of immediate relief. Telegraph and telephone service in all directions from Kansas City is still demoralized and trains delayed.

Floods Growing Worse.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 18.—Flood conditions continued to grow worse today. At seven o'clock this morning the stage of the river was 59.5 feet, and rising at the rate of about one-tenth of a foot an hour. Every hour added materially to the flooded area, and the suffering among the residents of the lower sections of this city and the Kentucky suburbs, Covington and Newport, was great. The street and railroad car service is badly crippled, and many of the electric lines have impassable gaps several blocks long. The improvised transfer arrangements are inadequate. There is no indication of immediate relief from up the river, although some of the tributaries of the Ohio are reported falling.

Levee Breaks.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 18.—As a result of the flood in the Ohio river the levee at Shawneetown, Ill., broke this morning. Shawneetown lies in an elbow of the Ohio river and is protected by a dike. When the river is at flood the surface of the water is six or eight feet above the street level in the lower part of town.

In 1898 the city was inundated by the river which broke through the dike on one side, and 29 lives were lost. The dikes were repaired after the calamity.

LATER:—The levee is not broken, but a break is threatened.

Kentucky River Rising.

Jackson, Ky., Jan. 18.—The Kentucky river has risen 18 feet here in the past two days. This stream passes through Frankfort and empties into the Ohio at Carrollton, fifty miles above Louisville.

Allegheny River is Falling.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 18.—The gradual fall of the Allegheny river during the past 24 hours has greatly improved the situation at Springdale. The water has ceased to flow around the dam. The Allegheny is falling at the headwaters, but the Monongohela is still rising at all points. Half the houses west of Brownsville are said to be submerged.

At McKeesport the high water has forced suspension of operations at the tinplate works and other plants, making several thousand men idle. If the rise continues a number of mills of the National Tube Works will have to close down. Fayette City is surrounded by water and many people have removed from their residences. California and Roscoe are partly submerged and scores of families have vacated their homes. Nearly every house in Black Diamond is flooded. All the coal mines in the valley have shut down and ten thousand miners are temporarily out of employment.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The United States has begun two suits in San Francisco for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of the treaty with Japan, giving the Japanese equal school advantages. One of the actions is brought in the supreme court of California in the name of a Japanese child for the purpose of obtaining a writ of mandamus to compel his admission to one of the public schools from which he is excluded by the action of the board of education. The proceeding in the second suit is a comprehensive bill of equity by the United States in the Federal District Court in which the members of the board of education, superintendent of schools and all principals of the various primary and grammar schools of San Francisco are made defendants.

TIDAL WAVE CHANGES JAMAICA COAST LINE

Kingston Disaster Reported as Great as the San Francisco and Valparaiso Calamities. Earthquakes in Italy, Scotland and Russia.

New York, Jan. 18.—The latest official news of the Kingston disaster reached this city from Guantanamo, Cuba, through Admiral Evans, who was sent to Kingston upon the torpedo boat Whipple, a brief wireless report. The dispatch says: "The Missouri and Indiana anchored at Kingston at 8:30 this morning. Kingston is almost totally destroyed. Four hundred killed and about five hundred injured. The city is now quiet."

This dispatch was sent Thursday morning. The Whipple started to return to Guantanamo with a full report of the situation yesterday, and should have reached the American naval base during the night.

Direct advices of the Associated Press from Kingston under date of January 16, received early today state that the disaster is as great as the San Francisco and Valparaiso calamities. Thousands of persons it was then believed were killed, as the dead were being recovered from the ruins by hundreds. A number of Americans were among the killed.

The city is in ruins, and the shipping in the harbor is safe, and aboard the vessels the wounded are being cared for. The dispatch also states that the topography of the country has been changed as a result of the earthquake disturbance, and the channel into Kingston harbor has been materially altered.

The body of Sir James Ferguson, was killed, was found and buried on the day the dispatch was sent. There have been a number of shocks since the first disastrous one, and the repetitions keep the people in a constant state of terror. Havana reports that wireless messages received there state that a tidal wave has changed the coast line of Jamaica and left the south side of Kingston under water.

No Official Advices.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The news from Havana regarding the huge tidal wave which inundated the entire south half of the Jamaican capital and changed the Jamaican coast line was communicated to the officials of the government at an early hour today. The Associated Press dispatches anticipated any official messages, and at eight o'clock this morning it was stated that no official word on the subject had reached any branch of the government. Secretary of the Navy Metcalf was one of the first of those advised of the dispatches regarding the disaster. Arrangements have already been made by which the Secretary should receive the first official reports expected from Rear Admiral Evans at Guantanamo. Secretary Metcalf remained up until a late hour during the night in hope of receiving some official report on the subject. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Newberry and other government officials also watched eagerly, but advices to the department were not forthcoming.

The news of a tidal wave following closely on the heels of details of the earthquake and fire caused a most profound interest in official circles. The American vice consul at Kingston did not notify the state department of the tidal wave last night.

A wireless message from Admiral Evans received at the navy yard early today states that the U. S. S. Yangtze arrived at Kingston last night at midnight with further medical supplies and two Associated Press reporters on board.

Most Serious in 250 Years.

London, Jan. 18.—A special from Kingston, dated the 17th, says: The recent earthquake was more serious than any which has occurred in Jamaica for two hundred and fifty years. The first shock was followed by fifteen minor shocks. Wooden structures stood well, but brick houses collapsed within a radius of six miles. There was no tidal wave. The defenses at Port Royal were destroyed and the palisades broken through. Black mud is coming to the surface. The conduct of all classes of people is admirable, but it is hoped that the British cruiser Indefatigable will soon arrive with marines.

Whole Coast Line Changed.

Havana, Cuba, Jan. 18.—Rear Admiral Evans, in a message to the cruiser Columbia here, states that a huge tidal wave changed the coast line of Jamaica, leaving the entire south side of Kingston under water. No bay is reported left, and the whole coast line is reported sinking.

Passed Jamaica Relief Bill.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The senate today passed the Jamaica relief bill immediately upon its receipt from the house, without discussion.

Earthquake in Scotland.

Glasgow, Jan. 18.—An earthquake was felt at Oban, Scotland yesterday. There was no damage, but the inhabitants were greatly alarmed.

Earthquake Shock in Italy.

Udine, Italy, Jan. 18.—A severe undulatory earthquake shock was felt at Tolmezzo, 29 miles from here, at 4:20 this morning. The inhabitants were panic stricken and fled from their homes. There was no loss of life. Tolmezzo is situated at the southern foot of Carnic Alps, near Tagliamento. It is noted for its rainfall, the annual precipitation being about 96 inches. The town has about 7,000 inhabitants.

Two Shocks in Russia.

GOVERNMENT INSPECTION OF HONDO RESERVOIR.

An inspection of the Hondo reservoir was made yesterday by the following officers, whose arrival was noted in yesterday's paper: Arthur P. Davis, of Washington, Assistant Chief Engineer of the U. S. Reclamation Service; W. H. Sanders, of Los Angeles, Calif., consulting engineer; B. M. Hall, of El Paso, consulting and supervising engineer for Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico; and W. M. Reed, of Roswell, district engineer for the Pecos Valley. Their report on the project is that it is entirely satisfactory.

Mr. Davis states that there is now in the reservoir 2,000 acre-feet of water, which means that there is enough water there to spread a foot deep over 2,000 acres of land. The water is now running into the basin at the rate of 400 cubic feet per second. The reservoir's capacity is forty thousand acre feet, or twenty times its present contents. Its average depth is 20 feet, but in places it is 35 feet deep. It will easily irrigate 10,000 to 12,000 acres of land, which fulfills the estimates and plans.

The engineers feel very good about the reservoir for the reason that the present water supply has been running in since July and that has given plenty of time for seepage, "puddling" and other sources of loss. None of the winter snow, practically, has yet come down from the mountains and this gives reason to predict that the lake will be completely filled by spring.

The total cost of the reservoir, its "puddling," the making of ditches, laterals, etc., to date is $336,000.

DOSS BOYKIN ESCAPES FROM PORTALES JAIL.

A. M. Boykin, better known as "Doss" Boykin, and two Mexicans escaped from the Roosevelt county jail at Portales early Thursday morning and are still at large. A search is being made for them, and Sheriff Joe Lang has offered a reward of $100 for Boykin's capture. The manner of the escape is not known here.

Boykin was arrested for killing his brother-in-law, Henry Stoltz, about two years ago. At the last term of court in Roosevelt county he was found guilty of murder in the second degree and sentenced to 14 years in the penitentiary. The case was appealed and he was confined in the Portales jail awaiting the appeal. Both he and Stoltz were well known in Roswell. In Sheriff Lang's reward cards Boykin is described as follows: 6 feet high, light complexion, dark brown hair, gray eyes, about 30 years old, slender built, a little stoop shouldered, of nervous temperament.

The Mexicans were in jail for minor offenses. Their names were not mentioned.

COTTON GROWERS

IN CONVENTION.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 17.—The third annual convention of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association began here this morning with a large attendance, every one of the eleven cotton growing states being well represented. After an invocation by Rev. Mr. Vaughn, of Lagrange, Georgia, President Harvie Jordan presented Mayor George J. Ward, who welcomed the convention on behalf of the city of Birmingham. W. H. Seymour, of Montgomery, president of the Alabama division, followed in an address of welcome on behalf of the Alabama cotton growers, saying that the question which the association had to deal with is not the production of cotton so much as the marketing. He regarded the present convention as the most important ever held in Alabama, because it had to do with the South's greatest product. "Our cause is a just cause," continued Mr. Seymour, "it is as holy as any cause, for the reason that it looks to the welfare of our people. It is right and we must win."

M. L. Johnson, president of the Georgia division, responded to the welcome addresses. He said, in part: "My friends, it is war, not a war of powder and lead, but a war requiring much bravery, demanding much sacrifice and the patriotism that nerved the arms and inspired the spirits of the Lees, Jacksons and Johnstons, the heroes of our lost cause, but a cause never to be forgotten." He said that for forty years the South had submitted to being robbed on the price of its chief product because of its poverty. "For forty years," he continued, "have we paid tribute to the Wall Street gamblers, the spinners of Europe and the spinners of our own country. Are you ready for the battle against this robbery?"

The speaker scored the American spinners for allying themselves with the interests of foreign spinners to the detriment and impoverishment of their own people and their own consumers. He also pointed out how the government protected other products with a tariff and discriminated against cotton.

Chaplain Bateman Arrives.

Chaplain Bateman arrived this morning from Fort Bayard, N. M., and will be here several days while giving a series of lectures at the Military Institute. His first lecture will be given tonight, and the others Saturday and Monday nights, it having been decided to give three addresses instead of two, as first planned.
